

Transforming conveyancing

Making conveyancing easier, faster and more transparent

Overview

In a world where technology has helped streamline all sorts of transactions, conveyancing is one industry that's been lagging behind - not anymore.

At Settle Easy, we've transformed conveyancing by automating, simplifying and streamlining the entire process.

Our expert local conveyancers service anyone buying or selling property and connect with stakeholders across the real estate ecosystem.

Our service

We improve the conveyancing experience for buyers and sellers in a number of different ways, including:

- our next generation, user-friendly online conveyancing platform, to streamline the process
- an expert, first-class conveyancing and customer service team
- improved communications through automation via email and sms
- a national presence with dedicated local conveyancers across every state
- a real-time dashboard to keep our customers up-to-date
- integrations with key industry partners for the mutual benefit of businesses and respective customers.

Our community

At the back-end, we are a community of experienced, trusted lawyers and conveyancers who will take care of all your conveyancing needs, answer any questions you may have and keep you updated, every step of the way. Our professional team of property lawyers and conveyancers are supported by the very best technology. We deliver a seamless experience for anyone transferring real estate.

I was impressed - understatement of the century, with Settle Easy. In all the years I've been in the industry I've never worked with someone who absolutely cared so much about our mutual client. I know that the vendor put Settle Easy through their paces, but they made it extremely easy for me as an agent and was always on call for the vendor as needed.

Being first homebuyers - we were so grateful to have Settle Easy on our home buying team! Everyone who worked with us went above and beyond, were incredibly responsive, advocated for us and most importantly, they held our hands and supported us throughout the home buying process. Thank you so much Settle Easy!!!

Our partners

Our partners continue to serve as an integral part of our business.

We are constantly expanding our networks and integration capabilities to provide our customers with a seamless, end-to-end property experience.

Let's talk

We are ready to scale as we expand nationally. We expect to become the dominant force in this market, and fast.

We are currently looking for the right partners who share our vision and want to join us on the journey.
